Note that "Smithtown Plantation"
is now Freedom, Me.

Rec'd Aug 28-1978

A record of the Bunkers found in the First Federal Census of Maine in 1790. Copied from the printed edition and compared with a list compiled from the original records of the Census Bureau, Washington, D.C.

The names, below, are those of "Heads of Families". The three digits after each name show, respectively, the number of (a) free white males of 16 years and over, including heads of families, (b) free white males under 16, and (c) free white females, including heads of families. The next number is the page reference to the printed volume.

NOTES:

1. Smithtown Plantation is now Freedom, Maine.
2. The 1790 Census is the only one which has been printed.
3. Maine comprised five counties: Cumberland, Hancock, Lincoln, Washington, and York. York County originally included all of Maine. Maine was a part of Massachusetts until 1760.

1790 Census
New Hampshire
Complete

A record of the Bunkers in the Federal census of New Hampshire in 1790, taken from the original records in the Census Bureau, Washington, D.C. by Paul D. Bunker. New Hampshire consisted of five counties: Cheshire, Grafton, Hillsborough, Rockingham, and Strafford. All were searched and only the Bunkers listed below were found. Compared with the printed edition in the Census Bureau (the 1790 census is the only one which has been printed) on 25 Jan 1930 and no errors found.

The names below are those of "Heads of Families". The three figures after each name show, respectively, the number of (a) free white males of 16 yrs or over; (b) including heads of families; (c) free white males under 16; (c) free white females, including heads of families.

- NOTES:- 1. I believe that Frances of Pittsfield should read Francis; it is spelled with an "i" in the 1800 census.
2. Reference the "Antipass Bunker" and "Antipass Bunker 2d" formerly listed (based on careful scrutiny of the original records): the 1800 census discloses no Bunkers in Chesterfield, Cheshire Co., and one Antipass BOWKER. Hence I omit these names herein.
3. Many Fosses in Barrington, but no Isaiah, and no Bunkers.

SKETCH SHOWING COUNTY LINES IN 1790.

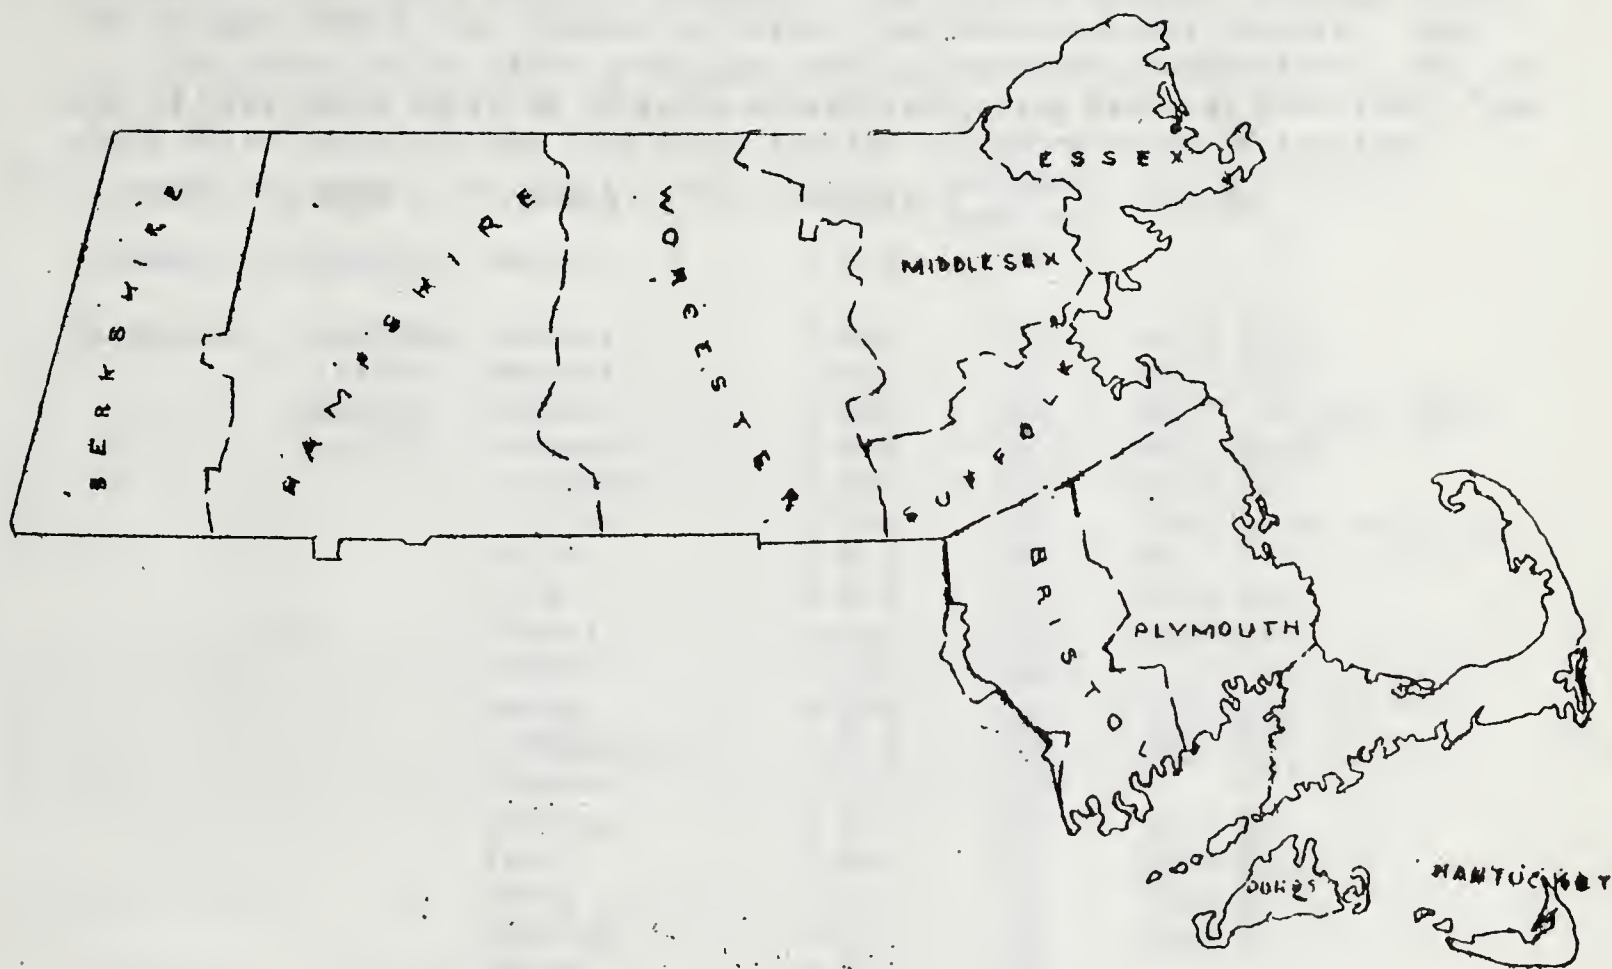

Changes in county boundaries of Bennington, Windham, Windsor, Rutland and Addison Counties from 1790 to 1900 are practically negligible. Seven new counties have been set off from Orange and Chittenden Counties.

The above county lines are taken from a diagram on page 61 of "A Century of Population Growth", compiled by the Bureau of the Census and published by the Government Printing Office in 1909.

1790

Massachusetts

Sketch of Massachusetts, showing county lines in 1790. Subsequent changes were:-

- a. In 1793 most of Suffolk County (except the vicinity of Boston), was set off to form Norfolk County.
- b. In 1811 a part of Hampshire County was set off to form Franklin County.
- c. 1812: Hampden County was set off from Hampshire County.

1790 Census
Massachusetts

Bunkers listed in Massachusetts in the 1790 Census. In addition to the following, there were Joseph BANKER 1-0-3 and Ebenezer BANKER 1-3-3 listed at Sherburn; as these 2 were the only Bankers listed in all of Massachusetts, it may be that they were actually Bunkers. The printed edition, listing Josiah and Solomon BONKER, is probably in error; they were probably BOUKERS. -bg.

COUNTY LINES IN 1790.

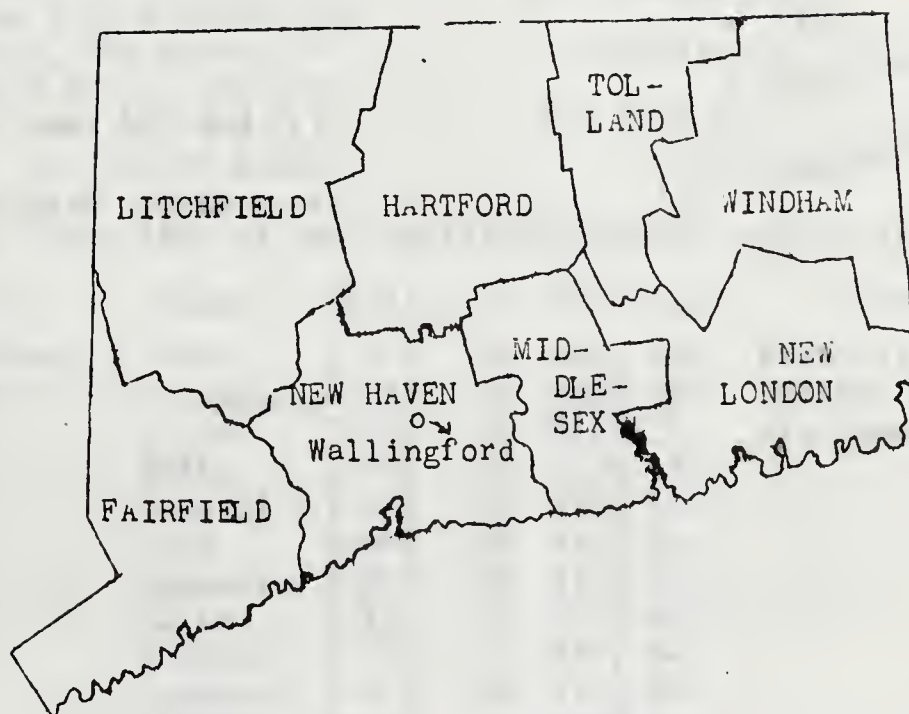

County names are in CAPITALS; county boundaries are dash-dot lines.

Later changes in county lines are insignificant.

THERE WERE NO BUNKERS IN RHODE ISLAND IN THE 1790 CENSUS.

Sketch showing County Lines in 1790.

(Only minor changes occurred later)

The only Bunker in the 1790 Census of Connecticut was James Bunker of Wallingford, New Haven County, listed on page 108. He was evidently alone, for his family consisted of 1 free wite male over 16 yrs. He may have been James (P.D.B. No. N1233) son of Jonathan Bunker and Elizabeth (Coffin) of Nantucket.

Maryland

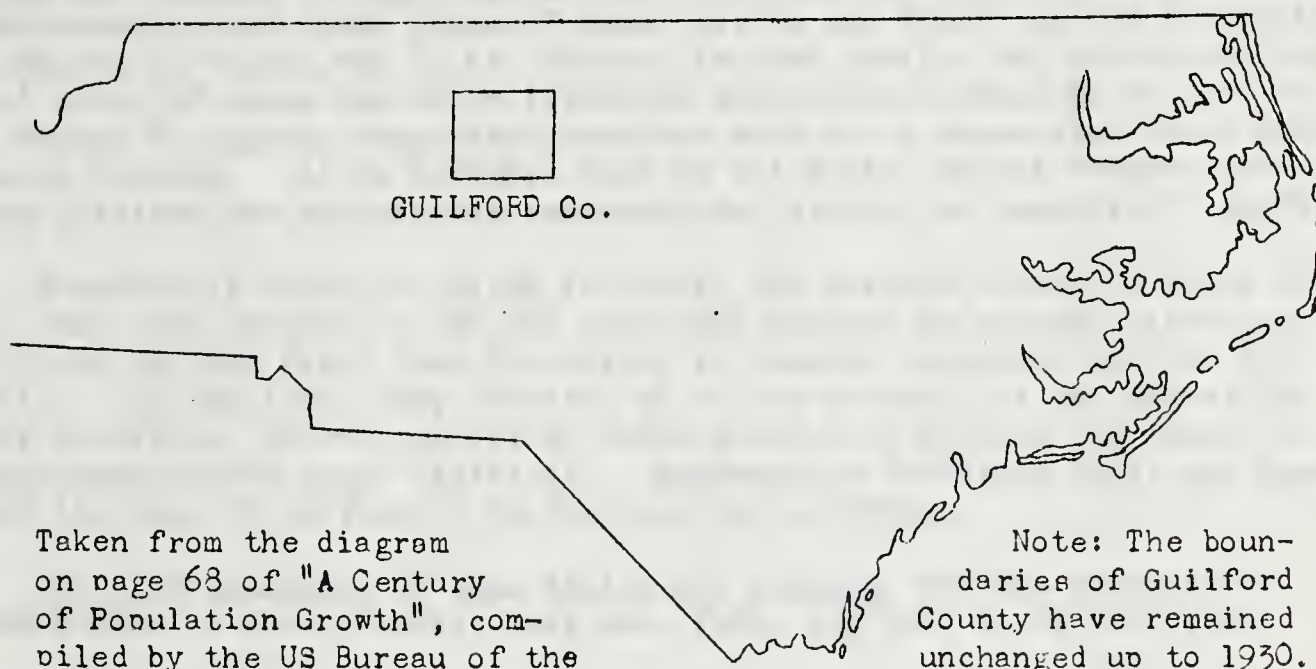

BUNKERS LISTED IN THE 1790 CENSUS OF MARYLAND.

The only Bunker listed was one "Captain Samuel" Bunker, of Montgomery County (possibly PDB No. N121 314) whose family comprised 7 free white males of 16 yrs or over (including himself), 2 free white males under 16, and two free white females, also 1 slave. (The large number of adult males indicates the possibility that Captain Samuel may have been keeping boarders. -bg)

BUNKERS LISTED IN THE 1790 CENSUS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

- The only Bunker listed in North Carolina in this Census was Reuben Bunker of the Salisbury District in Guilford County; page 153 of the printed edition. His family comprised 2 free white males of 16 yrs or over, 4 free white males under 16, and 6 free white females. He might have been (PDB No. 127 17) the son of Reuben Bunker of Nantucket, and a brother of Tristram.

NOTE:

No Bunkers were found in the remaining States which were covered in existing schedules of the 1790 Census, viz.- New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, and Tennessee. Maps for these States are therefore omitted.

Washington, D.C., 7 May 1931.

NOTES ON THE 1790 CENSUS.

1. The first Federal Census of the entire United States was taken in 1790. The first complete enumeration in England and in France was made in 1801.
2. The 1790 enumeration was to start on the first Monday in August (2 Aug 1790) and be completed within 9 months. Later, the Vermont enumeration period was changed to the 5 months following the 1st Monday in April 1791. Every person whose usual place of abode was in any family on the aforesaid 1st Monday in August was to be returned in such family; any person with no usual place of abode was to be listed in the district where he was on the 1st Monday in August; temporary absentees were to be enumerated where they usually resided. It is probable that in all States except Vermont and South Carolina the enumeration was completed within the specified 9 months.
3. Enumerators were paid $1.00 for every 300 persons listed in towns of more than 5000 persons, $1.00 for every 150 persons in country districts, and $1.00 for not fewer than 50 persons in special, sparsely settled districts. In addition, they received $4.00 for posting, at two places in their districts, correct copies of their schedules, showing the number of inhabitants within their districts. Enumerators furnished their own paper, hence the lack of uniformity in the original schedules.
4. The 1790 schedules of some States are missing, but the returns for those States in which Bunkers have been found are said to be complete.
5. The original schedules were arranged, paginated, and indexed by the Department of the Interior in 1897. In some schedules the names are listed alphabetically, showing that they were made up from preliminary field notes; others seem to be arranged in the order in which the persons were found, and hence furnish evidence as to propinquity of families. New England returns are arranged by towns (except in New London County, Conn.); New York returns are usually by townships under each county; the returns for the Southern States are by counties only.
6. The original schedules for Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Connecticut are now bound together in one volume for each State. The records of all States have been issued in printed form (now out of print) and the page numbers herein refer to pages in the printed edition, in which each State is represented by a separate volume.
7. It has been estimated that 250,000 persons immigrated into the United States from 1790 to 1820, and 2,455,815 more came in from 1821 to 1850.
8. Of the free white females listed in the 1790 census, the following percentages have been calculated to have been 16yrs or older:- Maine 49%, New Hampshire 52%, Vermont 46%, Massachusetts 56.7%, Connecticut 56.3%, New York 49.5%. The average for the whole census is 51.7; that is, of all listed females, approximately one-half were under 16. In New England, the family averaged 5.7 members, 2.7 of whom were under 16.
9. This census enumerates 27,337 different surnames. It lists 100 families named Bunker (or Bonker), comprising 480 persons. Of these, 2 families in New Hampshire were actually named BOWKER (See N.H. sheet), and two in Massachusetts were probably named BOUKER (Modern BOOKER) as explained on the Mass. sheet. In New York, 18 families, as shown on the N.Y. sheet, were named BONKER. With these corrections, the distribution of BUNKER families would be as follows:-

Maine.....	10	Mass.....	31	Penna.....	2
N.H.	19	Conn	1	Md	1
Vt.	0	N. Y.	13	N. C.	1

All others..... 0. Total 78 families.

(There were 91 Foss families in Maine; 211 Noble families, well scattered throughout the United States.)

10. Population of the States in 1790, and percentage of males:-
